ACADEMY TRUST

'Working Together - Learning Together'

Thank you for showing an interest in our school. We are a friendly, hardworking team, who strive to offer our children, our staff and our community the very highest levels of support.

Gosberton House Academy is a primary day school for children with Autism/Social Communication and /or additional learning needs. The school is thriving and is always full to capacity. The school role has increased over the last nine years to its present maximum physical capacity of just over 100 pupils.

The Academy is part of the University of Lincoln Academy Trust and works closely with the other schools in the Trust and with the University of Lincoln.

The school is fortunate to occupy an attractive site in the small rural village of Gosberton. Gosberton is situated approximately 17 miles south of Sleaford and 6 miles north of Spalding. The school buildings are modern and well maintained. There is a rolling programme of refurbishment. The school grounds include a Forest School, large playing field, playgrounds, trim trail, willow maze, sensory garden and bike track. Please look at our website for more information.

All children have full access to the National Curriculum at levels suitably differentiated to meet their specific needs.

OFSTED 2019 describes the school as 'An inspiring place to Learn.'

Staff ensure that all children access activities at levels that are interesting, relevant and meaningful to them.

The school works closely with the multi-agency team and Lincolnshire County Council.

The school has eight class groups and an early years centre. Numbers in the classes depend on the needs of individuals but are generally around 10-14. Children are usually taught with those of a similar age but there is flexibility within groups according to need.

"the school clearly sees itself as having a mission to try and make the world outside the school gate a better place for autistic people" - NAS, 2018

Children travel to the school from a 40 mile plus rural radius. Lincolnshire Education Authority provide transport. A number of parents choose to transport their own children.

Gosberton House Academy is the only Lincolnshire school to be accredited by the National Autistic Society at Advanced level. The school co-leads a cross phase/cross sector outreach service (commissioned funded) for young people with an ASD/Social Communication needs and /or learning need. The school is an Early Bird Plus provider and holds the Lincolnshire license for delivery of the Autism Education Trust support materials.

The school works closely with local colleges and universities and hosts education placements including SCITT and apprenticeships throughout the academic year. The school holds the Investors In People QM at Platinum level.

Gosberton House Academy works at national and regional levels and holds many quality marks. Working with quality mark's is a key part of the educational offer and our on-going development programme. All staff are expected to fully participate in all initiatives. CPD is viewed as a significant strength of the school.

Gosberton House Academy is a Rights Respecting School.
